

ROYAL NAVY APPRENTICESHIPS WHERE DO YOU FIT IN?

LOGISTICS

SUPPLY CHAIN LOGISTICIAN

Supply Chain Logisticians make sure their crewmates have everything they need, when they need it, anywhere in the world

WARFARE

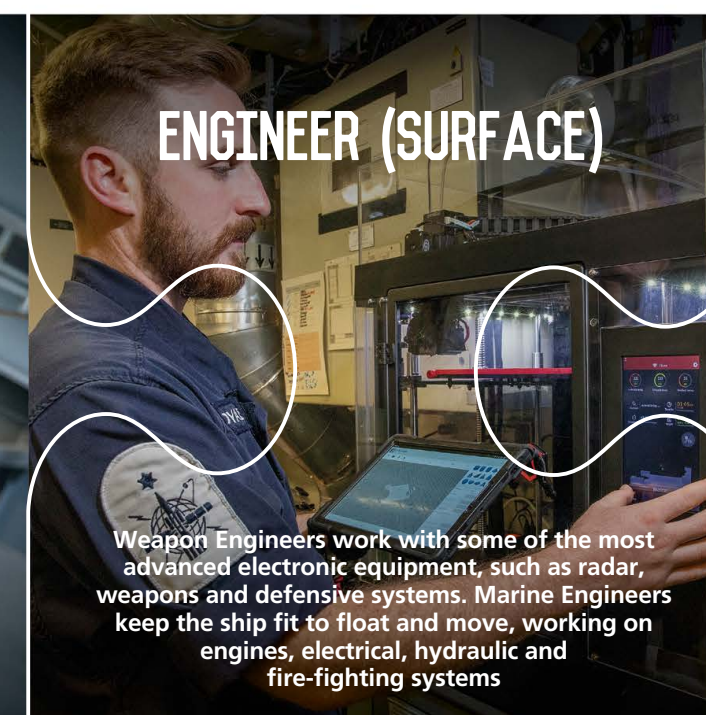

WARFARE (SURFACE)

Surface Warfare Specialists sail and fight the ship, using some of the most advanced sonar, radar and communications systems on the planet to engage any target

ENGINEER

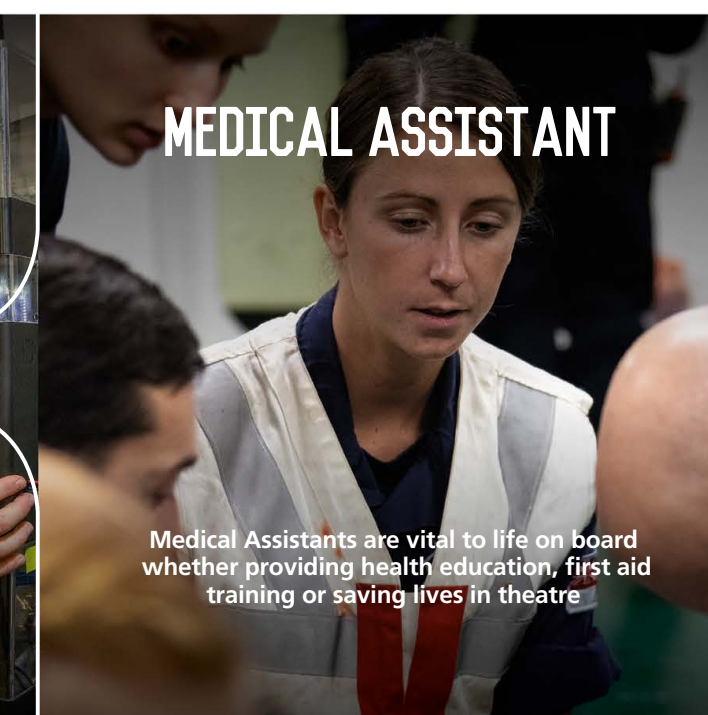

ENGINEER (SURFACE)

Weapon Engineers work with some of the most advanced electronic equipment, such as radar, weapons and defensive systems. Marine Engineers keep the ship fit to float and move, working on engines, electrical, hydraulic and fire-fighting systems

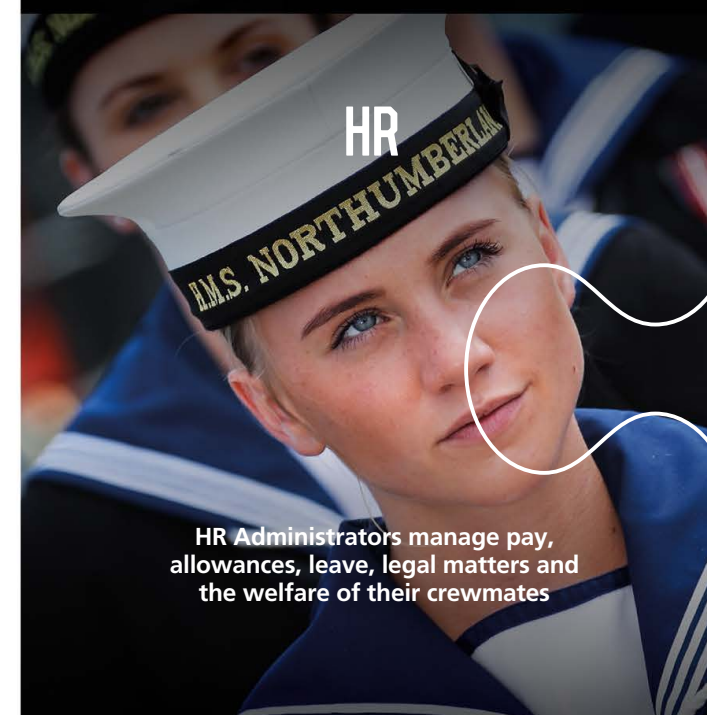

MEDICAL

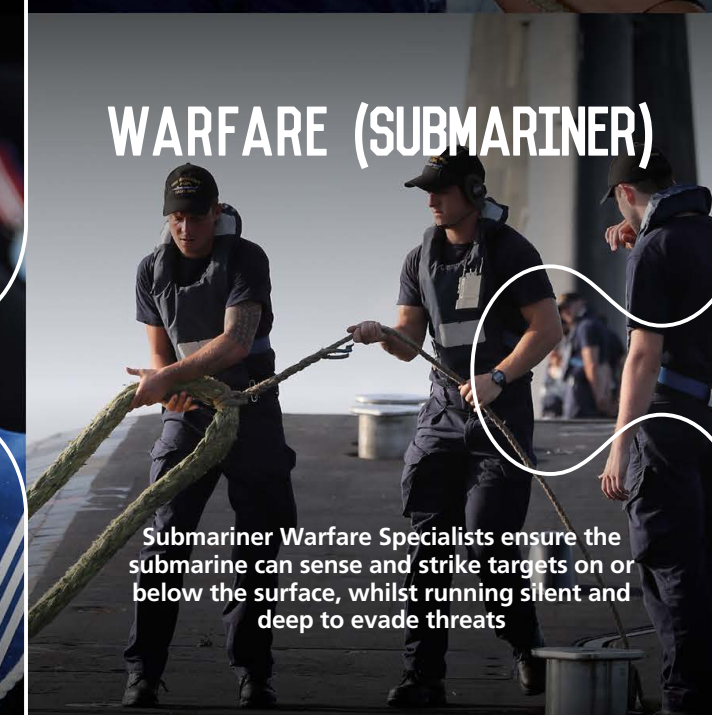

MEDICAL ASSISTANT

Medical Assistants are vital to life on board whether providing health education, first aid training or saving lives in theatre

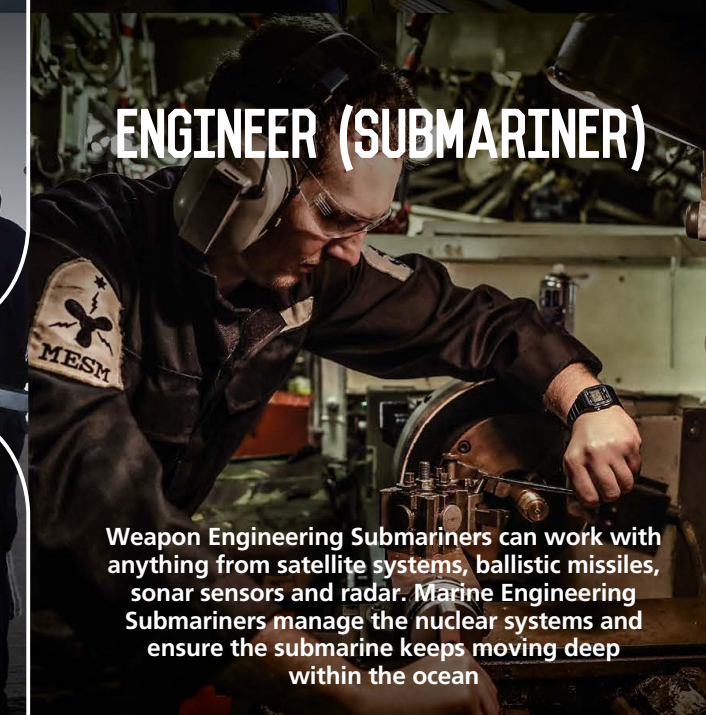

HR

HR Administrators manage pay, allowances, leave, legal matters and the welfare of their crewmates

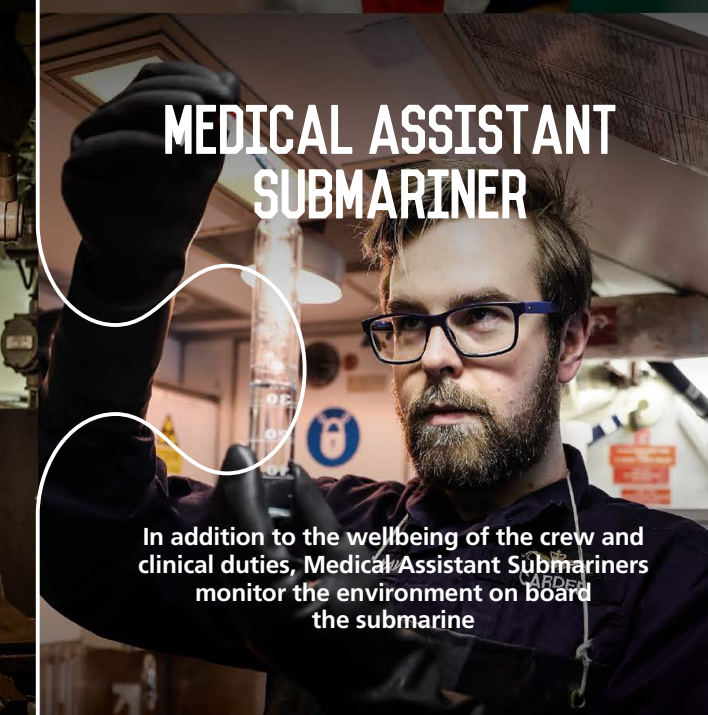

WARFARE (SUBMARINER)

Submariner Warfare Specialists ensure the submarine can sense and strike targets on or below the surface, whilst running silent and deep to evade threats

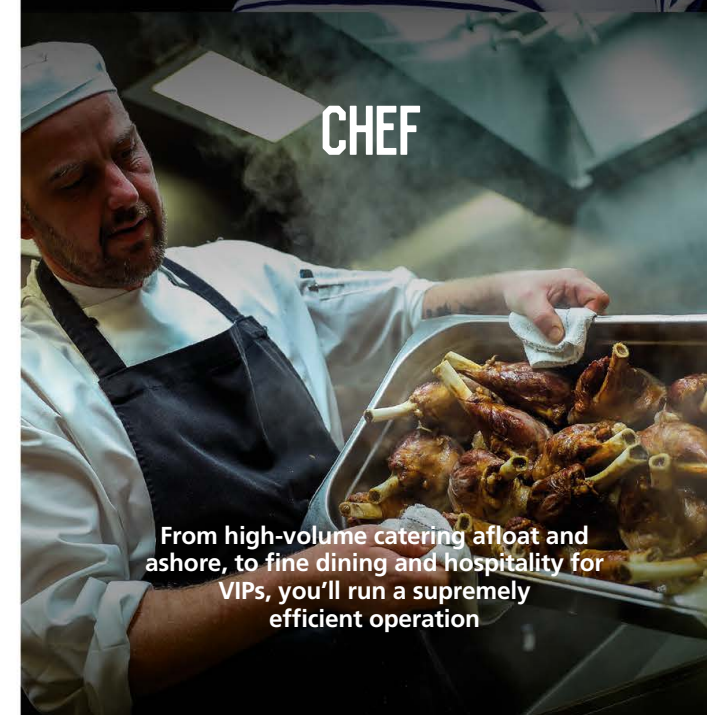

ENGINEER (SUBMARINER)

Weapon Engineering Submariners can work with anything from satellite systems, ballistic missiles, sonar sensors and radar. Marine Engineering Submariners manage the nuclear systems and ensure the submarine keeps moving deep within the ocean

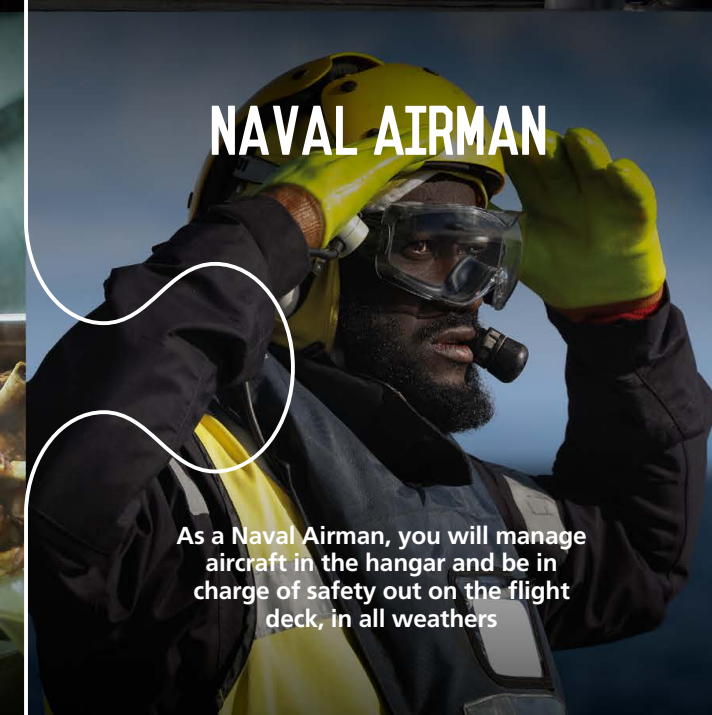

MEDICAL ASSISTANT SUBMARINER

In addition to the wellbeing of the crew and clinical duties, Medical Assistant Submariners monitor the environment on board the submarine

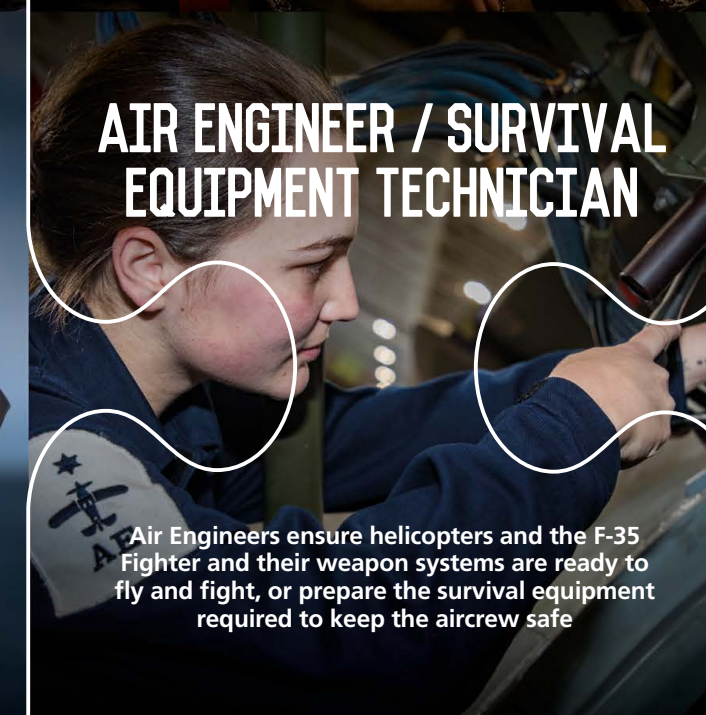

CHEF

From high-volume catering afloat and ashore, to fine dining and hospitality for VIPs, you'll run a supremely efficient operation

NAVAL AIRMAN

As a Naval Airman, you will manage aircraft in the hangar and be in charge of safety out on the flight deck, in all weathers

AIR ENGINEER / SURVIVAL EQUIPMENT TECHNICIAN

Air Engineers ensure helicopters and the F-35 Fighter and their weapon systems are ready to fly and fight, or prepare the survival equipment required to keep the aircrew safe

DENTAL NURSE / HYGIENIST

The dental department of a ship is as well equipped as any ashore, but Dental staff could be working anywhere in the world
